BIBLE READINGS

Daniel 7.9-10, 13

Judgement before the Ancient One

⁹ As I watched,
thrones were set in place,
and an Ancient One took his throne;
his clothing was white as snow,
and the hair of his head like pure
wool;
his throne was fiery flames,
and its wheels were burning fire.

¹⁰ A stream of fire issued
and flowed out from his presence.
A thousand thousand served him,
and ten thousand times ten thousand
stood attending him.
The court sat in judgement,
and the books were opened.

John 18.33-37

³³ Then Pilate entered the headquarters again, summoned Jesus, and asked him, 'Are you the King of the Jews?' ³⁴ Jesus answered, 'Do you ask this on your own, or did others tell you about me?' ³⁵ Pilate replied, 'I am not a Jew, am I? Your own nation and the chief priests have handed you over to me. What have you done?' ³⁶ Jesus answered, 'My kingdom is not from this world. If my kingdom were from this world, my followers would be fighting to keep me from being handed over to the Jews. But as it is, my kingdom is not from here.' ³⁷ Pilate asked him, 'So you are a king?' Jesus answered, 'You say that I am a king. For this I was born, and for this I came into the world, to testify to the truth. Everyone who belongs to the truth listens to my voice.'

REFLECTION FROM THE RECTORY

Well quite unexpectedly we all work up to a winter wonderland on Tuesday morning. It's been some time since we had snow in Harbury and the children were having a great time. However, as we get older, Old Man Winter becomes a less welcome guest. For adults, snow means clearing drives and scraping car windscreens, navigating treacherous footpaths, and in modern times more and more schools closing for the day, causing more rescheduling headaches. I was grateful I had recently equipped our car with 'All Season' tyres which cope so much better with colder conditions. Snow of course also brings so much beauty into our mundane surroundings, transforming them with that glittering sheath of white. Psalm 147 reminds us that the ultimate source of all of the wonders of nature is God himself:- 'He gives snow like wool; He scatters the frost like ashes'. When we think of God's glory in nature, we often have in mind a spring forest buzzing with birds and bees, or a white-sand beach bordering an endless expanse of ocean blue. But God's glory is on display as much in the cold winter snow as it is in the warm summer sun. Each snowflake is unique, a spectacular pattern that will never be repeated, a generous abundance of artistry that reflects its creator. The one who sends the snow, and the one the snow points to, is a generous giver. He wants us to enjoy the many good gifts he has surrounded us with. When it snows, God is giving us a precious opportunity to lose ourselves in the wonder and beauty of creation and to praise the one who brought it all into being.

Prayer

Lord God, as we find ourselves amidst the splendour of Your creation, we recognise your hand shaping its beauty. We recognize ourselves as just a small thread in the intricate tapestry of life. As we walk upon this Earth, this haven for life in an often hostile Universe, may our actions and choices reflect the love and care You pour into every corner of your
